July 24 - August 28

Week 6: THREE INGREDIENTS DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

1. Why do you suppose Jesus chose ordinary fisherman and corrupt tax collectors as disciples rather than handpicking people who were a bit more cultured and holy? What does this say about God's character?
2. Despite the fact that Matthew had only been following Jesus for a short time when he decided to host his banquet, somehow he knew he could trust Jesus to be gracious and accepting ... Do you believe Jesus is still in the business of receiving people in this manner? Why or why not?
3. Part of Paul's request in Colossians 4 is for people to pray for open doors in his ministry. Have you ever seen God open a door right after you prayed for one? Describe your experience.
4. What are some of the obstacles that prevent or discourage you from sharing your story? Brainstorm ideas to overcome those obstacles and pray within the group for boldness in declaring how God has impacted your lives.
5. As you reflect on the closing scene of this book, whose faces come to mind? Which of your unconvinced friends, family members, hairdressers, baristas, or doormen are you hoping to bump into on the streets of heaven some day? How might your decision to become a share-your-story person increase the likelihood of their eternal presence in heaven?
6. What are your top takeaways from this series? How will you attempt to make sharing your story part of the fabric of your life?
